

Today

at the Challenger Space Center

I will...

- 1 Find the memorial photos of the Challenger STS-51L crew of seven which launched on January 28th, 1986. Ask the adult with you what they remember about this mission. Why do you think their legacy is important? Can you find Peter Tria's painting of Christa McAuliffe?
- 2 Talk about why we study and explore space. Why is this important? What do you think you would find if you traveled to space? What do you think day-to-day life is like in space?
- 3 Did you know you can build a piece of art with Lego® pieces? In our Lego® exhibit, entitled, Sunrise Launch, Dave Shaddix of Southwest Bricks built this Lego® masterpiece. Do you think you could make something with Lego® pieces? How many Lego® pieces make up this 5 by 5 foot exhibit? Can you count them all?
- 4 Using our Imagination Playground innovative blocks, you can be an engineer and build your own world! Express yourself by stacking blocks as high as they go, building a space station for astronauts, or create a city with streets, tunnels, and bridges! What will you engineer today? Can you make a new friend and build something together?
- 5 Share and discuss something new you learned today at the Challenger Space Center. What was your favorite activity or exhibit? Do you want to become an astronaut? Take a photo with our life size "astronaut frame" or with your favorite exhibit and share it with us at TodayInAZ.org/Activities.

There's always a place for education.

Amazing things are happening in schools throughout Arizona, but learning doesn't just happen in the classroom. Simple everyday activities can be turned into opportunities to teach a child something new and wonderful and prepare them for success in school. On the other side of this sheet are ways you can support your child's literacy skills while you are here today.

Arizona is the proud home of many amazing arts and cultural venues, providing countless educational opportunities for kids and adults to learn together. Expect More Arizona has partnered with the following organizations across the state to show parents how to experience each venue with their children in rich and meaningful ways.

Visit TodayInAZ.org/activities to download an activity sheet for any of the partners listed below.

This program is made possible thanks to generous support from APS, our partner in the movement for world-class education for all children.
